A CHANGE IS MADE.

Col. Spangler Will Establish His Headquarters Here.

A HEAVY COMMISSARIAT.

Twenty Thousand Rations Are Issued Daily at Johnstown.

A CONFERENCE TO BE HELD TO-DAY

The Local Relief Committee Will Act Through the Colonel.

GREAT LOTS OF DISINFECTANTS

Colonel J. L. Spangler, Chief of the Commis sary Department on the Governor's staff, arrived in Pittsburg at a late hour last night, Colonel Spangler came here for the purpose of holding a conference with the members of the Citizens' Relief Committee, He was accompanied by Colonel Hill and one or two other military men.

In speaking of his visit to a DISPATCH reporter, Colonel Spangler said that he came here solely for the purpose of having a conference as to the provisions that should be sent them. sel Spangler is known throughout the State as one of the foremost men in military circles, and being a veteran among the members of the citizens' militia, his opinion is gen-erally highly prized. He said in answer to

Has Done All He Could. "I have seen a good deal, but never in my life have I seen anything like Johnstown I cannot describe it to you, such a thing would be impossible. I went there after General Hastorder out of chaos, as you might sav. It has take. But my men have worked faithfully and have done well. You can readily see where our greatest trouble arose. It came from the people who were supposed to be friends." "I have done all I could," continued Colonel have done all I could. continued Colones Spangler, "to get the thing straightened. I have divided my work up into 11 commissary districts, and have 11 men hard at work as com-missary agents. We have taken a census of every one in the valley, and we Are Now Supplying about 20,000 rations daily. The way I have had fixed is really good, and will without doubt come out all right. What I want is to have all my rations sent to Johnstown five days ahead. I really need it. If anything should happen by which I should slip up on the food for a day I would be placed in an awfully bad predicament. I have everything fairly well arranged. Imoostors can't get in. There are none. Everyody is without food, and money is not of the dightest object. You cannot spend it. There is no place to spend. Every one who comes to this means I have prevented considerable fraud. I shall have an understanding to-night, and shall leave on the first train back to Johns-own to-morrow.

The conference between Colonel Spangler and the committee will not take place until to-day, as he arrived too late last night to meet the gentlemen at the Chamber of Commerce. Dull at the Hendquarters.

The Citizens' Relief Committee at the Chamber of Commerce were yesterday in a state of innocuous desuetude. But little business was transacted outside of granting passes to properly vouched for applicants. During the day Chairman McCreery received a letter from Thos. R. Munn & Co., the principal manufacturers of Mill Hall. The letter is as fallows: MILL HALL, June 7, 1889.

To Citizens Relief Committee;

outside of the solutions of strict our little fown has suffered a greater proportionate less than any other we have yet heard from. Fifty-seven families who have to work hard for a living have lost $5001 all by the late floods. They are all now well ared for as far as provisions and clothing are construed, but they are unable to place their somes, or what is left of them, in a fit condition to live in. All their outbuildings have been swept tway, gardens destroyed, furniture ruined and nuch of their stock lost. The town is filled with tebris from the valleys above.

Many dead animals are in our streets and alleys. Our bridges are all gone, and, as we have no moneyed men here, it is simply impossible to get these families in good shape and our town in a healthy condition without outside help. If you can send us some money our people will be very grateful, and we will see that it is properly distributed. Our loss is the heaviest of any in this section, and we are so badly off that we can't help our poor to any extent.

our poor to any extent.

Yours respectfully.

Titos. E. Mann & Co. The letter was referred to a committee and the petition will be properly inquired into.

The Pittsburgers Coming Home.

The majority of the Relief Committee are expected home to-day. Governor Beaver will take charge and General Hastings will really be at the head of Johnstown's municipal government for a while. The Citizens Committee do not expect or anticipate any clash between the committee and the Governor, yet they hold themselves in readiness to meet any such disagreeable state of affairs. A member of the committee said yesterday, that they were working for the Johnstown people, and not for the Governor, and the latter in taking charge of affairs, did not interfere with them any, they would simply relinquish any hold they might have had on Johnstown, and come back to this city, leaving the Governor in supreme control. The members of the committee, however, will continue as they have been doing, and will take charge of all funds or donations that may be sent to them for the relief of the sufferers. be at the head of Johnstown's municipal govof all funds or donations that may be sent hem for the relief of the sufferers.

At the Duquesne Depot, The ladies' branch of Relief Committee are ing a noble work. Yesterday about 20 young women were at the Duquesne station, working like beavers (not the Governor), sorting out clothing and shoes for men, women and chil-dren. Several large cases were filled and sent away, and they expect to have a carload of stuff ready for Johnstown this morning. During the day Assistant Commissary Gen-eral Spangler sent the following telegram to the Relief Committee:

"Please ship at once 100,000 pounds fresh bread, 20,000 pounds to be shipped each day for five days, of which 10,000 pounds by Pennsvivania Raliroad and 10,000 by Baitimore and Ohio Raliroad. Also send 8,000 quart-cans tomators, half via B. & O. and half via P. R. E. 4,000 quart-cans of corn. 10 barrels of vinegar, 200 boxes of pepper, 60 hushels of onions, 100 cheeses. The emergency is very great, and unless shipments begin to-day there will be a familie in this entire valley."

This order was at once attended to, and the first shipment was made at 1 P. M.

Mr. J. B. Scott also sent a telegram saying that after the men at Johnstown had been paid the embargo would be raised, and then the railroads could take into Johnstown all the people who wanted to go.

WANT HIM AT HOME.

Friends of James B. Scott Think He Should Leave Johnstown, and Not Play Second Fiddle.

James B. Scott's lengthened stay at Johnstown is not regarded with favor by his Pittsids. Telegrams urging him to leave General Hastings and the State control of the work and retire while his administration of affairs shines brightly, in contrast to the reigning confusion, have been sent to him from all sources, and a strong pressure is being brought upon him to forego his promised intention of mining for a few days and giving General Hastings the benefit of his advice and experi-

While Mr. Scott is good-naturedly remaining under General Hastings' command, and is certainly actuated by the highest motives, his Pittsburg friends do not like to see him playing second fiddle to the remarkable methods that seem to comprise Governor Beaver's policy. As matters stand now, Mr. Scott cannot fail to receive the very highest praise for his conduct of affairs during the entire time he was in sole charge of the situation. "While Mr. Scott is good-naturedly remaining of anairs during the charte the was it sole charge of the situation.

"The general impression seems to be among Pittsburg business circles that General Hast-ings and Gevernor Beaver will make a mess of affairs; and that the present is the time tor Mr. Scott and his coadquitors, Mr. George A. Kelly and others, to retire because they can do so with result to themselves and their city. so with credit to themselves and their city.

"I wish The Disparch would call for a public reception to Mr. Scott, and it could be made the occasion of hearing from that gentleman himself, a narrative of his experiences and a statement of affairs in the ruined city. I think, for one, that if ever a man earned a hearty commendation of his fellow citizens, James B. Scott is that one. Heedless of self he has worked like a Trojan for overa week and Pittsburg would enjoy an opportunity to henor a citizen who has honored himself so signally by his exercise of unlooked for abilities in a most trying situation."

AIDING THE NEEDY.

No Abatement of the Work of the Ladies Relief Society-Many Persons Cared for Yesterday.

The good work of succoring the refugees from the ill-fated mountain city is still being continued at their headquarters by the mem-bers of the Ladies' Relief Society. Twentyseven women, 50 children and 2 men were yesterday given their selection of the piles of clothing of all sizes and descriptions, which is eing sent in in large quantities. A double outfit was given to each person, and in this way over 1,580 pieces of clothing found new owners, being an average of 20 pieces each.

Donatons of clothing were received from about 50 private individuals and institutions some being from New York, and the gift of $100 from the N. S. Council, No. 8, Sovereigns of Industry, Federal Street, Allegheny, was reseived. Mr. A. Kornblum, the Fifth Avenue optician, will give glasses to all persons who bring with them an order from the committee.

The following were reported missing to the Bureau of Information:

Ward Smith, a boy 3 years of age, a son of H. K. Smith, of Osbourne, O. He was with his mother on the ill-fated day express. The mother was lost and her body afterward found; but the boy has not been heard of. He is described as having dark halr and dressed in a blue plaid dress. He also lipps some. Mrs. Milligan and her mother, Mrs. Stewart, of Forty-third street, are both missing. The others missing are Mrs. Theiss, Halph Smith, aged 9 years, of Woodvale; John Conrad, aged 20 years; five children of Mrs. Charles Murr, one 3 months old, a girl of 6, boy of 10 and two girls of 12 and 16 respectively. The father was drowned, the mother and two children being saved.

The following cash donations are acknowledged The following cash donations are acknowledged by the committee as having been received since their work began: The Young Men's Tariff Club, $300; Bishop Whitehead, $500; Allegheny Clty relief fund, $200; a friend, $40; a mother of a boy saved from the flood, $40; cakiand M. E. Mrs. Charles Murr, of Johnstown, is staying with her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Speck, of Hazelwood. She is all bruised from the debris in the flood. Two of her children are alive and with her, while her husband and five children were lost. They were a baby girl 3 months old girl 6 years, boy 10 years, girl 12 years, and Mis Stella, aged 16.

PLENTY OF LIME. The State Board of Health Shipping Large

Quantities of Disinfectants-Patrol "Is the sanitary condition really serious?"

said a well-known physician yesterday, "I should say that it is. Nobody knows how serious it is. I don't know any more than other physicians, but I believe that from all the surroundings sickness of all kinds will be epidemic. Indeed, you have only to take the records of the State Board of Health to know that such is the case. Look at the amount of disinfectant matter that has been sent along In his opinion there would be no opposition to the valley. It is all right and only just to pro claim that there is not the slightest fear of an epidemic, but does the standing of things bear out that statement? The State Board of Health has to-day sent fully 1,000 pounds of chloride of lime to the Conemangh Valley, and if an epi-demic was not imminent, why should they send

Bonts Are Still Ont.

A DISPATCH reporter asked several mem-bers of the Relief Committee if they feared an epidemic of sickness. They all said that they did not, but were not as positive as they might Distribution of Disinfectants. The reporter next went to Dr. J. R. Thompson, who has charge of the department of the State Board of Health at the Chamber of Com merce. Dr. Thompson did not think that there was any danger of a pestilence, but he was free enough to admit that there was a considerable need of caution and for all disinfectants. He said that during the day four orders of 100 pounds each of chloride of lime had been sent to Nineveh for the use of the commissioners of Indiana county, 100 had been sent to the same city for the use of the commissioners of Westmoreland county, 100 pounds were sent to New Florence for the same commissioners, and 100 pounds were sent to Bolivar for the same county.

What the Patrol Bonts Are Doing. The patrol boats, which are controlled by the State Board of Health, are doing a good work. Boat No. 1 is at present down the river within ten miles of the State line. The boats patrol ten miles of the State line. The boats patrol the river day and hight looking for the bodies of the lost. In addition to this the crows set fire to all drift and dead animals and burn them up, thereby getting rid of one of the worst features of the flood.

The State Board yesterday posted a circular to the effect that, upon application, all medicine, medical attendance and disinfectants would be furnished free.

About Il o'clock last night the body of a little boy about 3 years of age was found floating in the Allegheny river below Sixth street. The body is but slightly decomposed and those who saw it think it is not that of a Johns-town flood victim. The child had light hair, fair complexion and a pretty face. It was fair complexion and a pretty face. It was dressed in a black and white dress, red and black finnnel skirt, black stockings and shoes. The body is at the morroe awaiting identification. The body of a child about 18 months old was found in the Ohio river at Emsworth yesterday. The coroner was notified and James Lowrie, an Allegheny undertaker, was instructed to take charge of the corpse which is hadly decomposed.

The school fund is now completed and amounts to $2,682.63.

To have the money disposed of in a manner to satisfy all concerned is a puzzle now agitating those who have charge of it. The majority of the educators want the money to go to the needy teachers at Johnstown; as a part of the public objects to the fund being used for the teachers alone, the teachers think that $682.63, the amount contributed by the teachers, should go to the relief of the Johnstown teachers, and no one but themselves should have a say about it. A story set affoat yesterday that the $11,000 left of the Chicago relief fund after the great HUGH MURPHY and Jerry Lyons were arrested yesterday, for representing themselves the plants own relief fund seems to be unfounded. Mr. Charles J. Clarke last night stated that it was in such shape that it could not well be diverted to that purpose even though that might be the disposition of the trustees.

The last Hon, James P. Barr, who had charge of the fond, got an order from court to place the money in the hands of five trustees, who were directed to pay the interest on it to various charge institutions, and in the case of some its failure would embarrass their operations, as it is included in their estimates of revenue. TWO FAITH CURES ALREADY. Pather Mollinger Will To-day Have to Bless Many Thousand Persons.

A HARVEST FOR THE BOARDING HOUSES.

This will be the big day at Rev. Father Moll. inger's church, on Troy Hill, Allegheny It is St. Anthony's Day. Hundreds of invalids from all sections of the United States are arriving hourly to put themselves in the hands of God and the great faith cure priest. Thousands from Pittsburg and Allegheny will be there also. The believers in the legen d of St. Anthony and faith cure will have a chance of testing both to their entire satisfaction at the ervices in the chapel of St. Anthony to-day. A reporter made a visit yesterday to what will to-day be a scene of activity.

Clustered in a spot on Troy Hil, overlooking a large part of Allegheny and Pittaburg, is Father Mollinger's kingdom. It consists of a large church, a home for the sisters, a schoolhouse, a chapel, having a large dome to beautify it, and the residence of the millionaire priest.

First.
Even yesterday the scene was one of bustle Even yesterday the scene was one of bustle and excitement, something unusual for the quiet spot, although it is visited yearly by hundreds of people who believe in the power of prayer to heal the sick and the halt. At the boarding houses of Holks, Buck, Miller and Bomick hundreds of invalids are stopping, and hundreds more are expected.

At the boarding house of Mrs.V. Buck about 60 guests had arrived up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Of this number about 50 were invalids, their ills consisting of about all the known maladies. At the other three boarding houses about the same number of invalid guests had arrived.

From All Distant Points. There were also many visitors stopping with private families. These faith curists came from as far West as Kansas, as far South as Georgia, from New York and Rhode Island, and a dozen other States. The eastern part of this State furnished its hundreds, although a prominent member of the church said the East would not send so many believers in faith oure as heretofore, on account of the Johnstown flood. Altoona and vicinity, he said, had sent many in years past, but few would come on this St. Anthony's Day on that account.

Faith cures have already been performed this mouth. The principal one was that of Mrs. Katie Stinger, of Danville, Pa. She has been entirely deaf and dumb for seven years, Yesterday morning she went to the 6 o'clock mass, after which she went to the chapel, where the reverend father prayed for and blessed her. She immediately regained her voice and hearing. She commenced a conversation at once, and could talk very fluently. Mrs. Stinger is the mother of seven children. She was here in the charge of a daughter-in-law. The visitors and Georgia, from New York and Rhode Island. charge of a daughter-in-law. The visitors and residents of the neighborhood are considerably worked up about the cure, vowing it is great, as she was blessed but once by the priest. A Child Helped.

Another case is that of the little 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. C. L. Laughtner, who was suffering from paralysis. Mrs. Laughtner, who is also from Danville, Pa., stated to the reporter that her daughter was unable to hold up her head on the way to this city, and was almost as stiff as one dead. After having been prayed over by the reverend father she at once commenced to show signs of regaining some of her lost power. She has been improving ever since, but will be taken to the church again today.

some of her lost power. She has been improving ever since, but will be taken to the church again to-day.

The programme for to-day is as follows: Six o'clock A. M., only mass to go to communion. At 10 o'clock there will be high mass. At this mass there will be three priests on the altar, also ten altar boys, whose names are as follows: John Schroeffel, Frank Andrews, T. W. Miller, L. Kluminger, Frank Reight, F. Harsh, Joseph Marks, Joseph and John Elkler and John Schlarte. All the morning services will be held in the church. In the afternoon the benediction will be school hall by the Troy Hill Literary Association. The subject of the effect aliment is "Old Ireland as it Is." The committee on the entertainment are Joseph G. Tremmel, William Buerkle. About 20 priests are expected to be in attendance, among the number are Revs, Simon Queen and Links. The latter is of the Holy Ghost orden.

The church has been decorated in a fine style with evergreens.

DREAD OF DISEASE.

Ex-Mayor Dick, of Johnstown, Thinks the Health Builetias Disguise the Truth -Great Need of Caution to Prevent Epidemics. [FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

JOHNSTOWN, June 12.—Your correspondent this morning had a talk with ex-Mayor Dick, of hnstown. He does not like to be called a lesperado, for the reason that he is over six feet high and can hit the bull's eye every time with a revolver. Mr. Dick took exceptions to the reports sent out by the sanitary corps here, and says they are trying to blind people to the fact that there is sickness in the valley. He says he knows of cases of diphtheria and typhoid fever, notwithstanding the fact that the daily bulletins sent out by the corps say that there is no disease whatever in the bor oughs. In the interview Mr. Dick tried to show that Jambria City is a nursery of disease, and the people should be warned to take extra precautions to guard against it. The ex-Mayor precautions to guard against it. The ex-Mayor says:

"During the time of the yellow fever in the South there were more deaths from diphtheria in Cambria City in the same time, in proportion to the population, than there were in the worse fever-infested region of the South. At that time there was a scourge here, and it has come off and on since then. On account of the country being so low, the nights cold and the days hot, this valley seems to have had more than her share of diphtheria and typhoid fever. If either of them get a foothold here, with all this filth under our noses, there will be as many deaths from disease as there were from the flood.

"At the time I speak of there was a convention of physicians of the surrounding country collections."

"At the time I speak of there was a convention of physicians of the surrounding country called to consider the most effectual means of stamping out the disease. The files of the Johnstown Tribune will show the large mortality here at that time. There were about 1,500 people in the borough at that time, and strange to say not one of them voted the Republican ticket. I am distinctined to believe, however, that the large number of deaths had anything to do with this.

"Unless the people take measures to sup-"Unless the people take measures to sup-press the disease germs we will have an epi-demic, instead of a probable epidemic. I can yet see the long list of dead, and the large number of funeral corteges winding their way to Sandy Cemetery, where people were then buried."

BODIES FOUND YESTERDAY.

A Comparatively Small Number, None Which Were Identified. Female Physicians to Organize for Sanitary Work-A Missing Child. FEROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, F JOHNSTOWN, June 12 .- A call was issued to day by the visiting women physicians, in co-operation with the State Board of Health, requesting all the women of the town to meet at the residence of Judge Flannigan, corner of Main and Jackson streets, to-morrow at 10:30 o'clock, for the purpose of putting all houses in a thorough sanitary condition. The commit-tee wish it understood that they do not desire the residents to do any of the hard work. They

the residents to do any of the hard work. They are perfectly willing to do all that themselves, but desire the facts of the different cases, which it is believed can be better obtained by people who are known.

The Children's Aid Society desires information concerning Maud Conley Berkebile, who has not been seen since the flood. A boarder at the home of her parents carried her up the hills, and it is known that she was in a position of safety. The man was somewhat under the influence of liquor, and can give no information as to where he left her. The child was about 4 years old, short light hair, blue eyes, and wore a brown and blue dress and brown cloth sack. Any information will be received and wore a prown and blue dress and brown cloth sack. Any information will be received by the authorities, or sent direct to A. Spangler, Bedford street, Johnstown.

FIVE THOUSAND LABORERS. The Number Soon to be Employed on the Ruins of Johnstown. JOHNSTOWN, June 12.—William Flinn said good-bye to Adjutant General Hastings, and left with the promise of returning Sunday, or sooner if needed. He paid off 4,000 men to-day, all but 625 of whom left the city at once. He thinks General Hastings will soon have 5,000 men at work on the ruins, and that the first system in vogue since the flood has just been entered upon.

Contractor James McKnight said to-night:
"I will have 1,000 men at work to-morrow, and 2,000 by Saturday. A thousand Hangariansare now en route from New York. Above the now en route from New York. Above the bridge there is a space of 300 yards cleared, and there is 1,000 feet more in horrible condition, which we must soon get out of the way. I have my doubts whether more than 700 men can work to advantage about the bridge. We will use axmen and steam engines in prosecuting the work. We expect to hive d00 yards of the wreckage cleased away by to-morrow night."

Contractor McLean reports 300 men on duty in the morning, and promises 700 by Saturday. Patrick Ridge has 500 men, and will double that number by the end of the week.

A BUSY DAY FOR HIM. General Hastings Works Hard and Adopts

a Systematic Plan of Operations. LYROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] JOHNSTOWN, June 12.—General Hastings was to-day the busiest man in Johnstown. At his headquarters he received contractor after con-tractor, colonel after colonel and deputation after deputation. He was wanted everywhere, and when he at last ushered forth last night, his great task completed, his countenance beamed with as much satisfaction as if he had been the victor in a great battle. Regarding the system of future measurement his plans the system of future management his plans have apparently been laid out very methodicalhave apparently been laid out very methodically. The entire district has been divided into five different sections—Cambria City, the debris above the railroad bridge, Johnstown proper, the part of the town above Franklin street and Kernville. Each of these districts will be in charge of an experienced engineer, and the work has been let to a different contractor for each district. The entire work, however, is under the supervision of Colonel Douglass, Chief Engineer of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The sections are divided into gangs of 40 men, who will be superintended by a foreman. There will be two timekeepers for each gang, One will be appointed by the contractors and the other by the engineer. Reports will be made every evening to the General by each section boss and also by each engineer.

The wages have been determined by the contractors at $1.50 per day. General Hastings disclaims to nave had anything to do with the matter. Skilled laborers will get $2 per day.

To-morrow morning about 700 men, under Mr. Coburn, will commence to clean up the debris at the head of the bridge. As soon as the electric lights have been put up the men will start to work double turn.

"So far," said General Hastings, "we have all the men we can do with and when we want more we shall get them." The General very cautiously plead ignorance when he was asked to state how long he thought the work would take to be completed.

"We will work as fast as we can and get finished as soon as possible," he said. "An arrangement has also been made for six men to be stationed at each section with a stretcher to carry away the dead bodies found and transport them to the different morgues. A citizen of Johnstown will also accompany the stretcher to take charge of any valuables found on the dead body."

The deputy sheriffs, who have been so long lounging around town with their tin badges, were all discharged by the General, and he proposes to let each municipal government take care of itself, except in unusual cases, where he will place his soldiers as a guard.
